Question

Where in the MAXcore portal can I find the phone numbers for our company?

Answer

The Phone Number page displays all of the 10-digit phone numbers assigned to the group. The page displays the phone number, the type of number, extension (if assigned), name (if applicable), and actions (and). Clicking on the phone number will take you to the Phone Number Information page. Clicking on the extension will take you to the information page for the extension, auto-attendant, hunt group, or queue (based on the type.) Clicking on the name takes you to an update page for the information that was mentioned previously. The icon will take you to the Phone Number Call Log. This displays calls received or made from that phone number, and can be provided based on the date range entered. Clicking the button also takes you to the Update Phone Number page. Seen below are examples of numbers in the MAXcore 2.0 platform:

- Phone Number Displays the full 10-digit phone number (including +1 at the beginning of it.)
- Type Displays the function assigned to the number. This will commonly be an extension, hunt group, or auto-attendant. Other options include conference portal, queue, reserved, or unassigned.
- Extension Displays the extension that has been assigned to the number (if applicable).
- Name This will display the name of the extension that has been assigned. Because it pulls from auto-attendants and hunt groups as well, names will not always be first and last names.
- Action Two options are available. The and option.

Clicking on one of the phone numbers takes you to the Phone Number Details page. The Phone Number Information section contains more detailed information about the phone number that has been selected. You are also able to click the button to make changes. The Blacklist section allows a user to add phone numbers to the blacklist, blocking calls from the input numbers allows.
